Aims At Serious Soviet Talks

West Plans New Formula In German Reunification

Hopes Draft Will Be Set Up By March

Expected To Push Free-Elections Bid Into Background

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western leaders expect to draft within the next month a new formula for German reunification. They hope it may promote serious negotiations with the Soviet Union for uniting East and West Germany.

The shape of the formula is still to be determined, but it is expected to push the Western request for free all-German elections somewhat into the background.

Many experts now believe that the unifying process could go on for as much as two years before nationwide elections were held. In the meantime practical steps in the economic and political field could be taken to bring the two Germanies closer together.

Diplomatic informants said today that the United States, Britain, France and West Germany are guided by two main tactical considerations in the wholesale review of their German policies which is now under way.

Their primary aim is to test to the limit — without sacrificing vital Western interests — the possibility that the Soviet government may be ready for serious negotiations and compromises on the unity issue.

Their other concern is to demonstrate to the world a Western readiness to negotiate with initiative and flexibility.

Several Western concessions already have become known as a result of exchanges among the governments in Washington, London, Paris and Bonn. These concessions include:

1. A decision to propose in a forthcoming note to the Soviet government that German advisers participate in a prospective East-West foreign ministers conference.
2. A declared readiness—recently stated by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles—to have a foreign ministers conference with the Soviet Union without advance agreement on a detailed program of discussion.

BB Gun Pellet Hits Boy's Eye

Chief Gives Warning On Use Of Weapons

A 9-year-old East Liverpool boy escaped without apparent damage to his sight when struck in the right eyelid Thursday about 4:30 p. m. by a BB gun pellet fired at him deliberately by one of a group of three boys, police reported.

David Springer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Springer, 314 W. Church Ln., was treated for the eye injury at City Hospital. Police said the pellet luckily lodged in the lid instead of penetrating the eye.

The boy told police he and some other youngsters were standing at W. 3rd and Monroe St. watching a group of three boys fire BB guns and pellet guns on the nearby Pennsylvania Railroad Co. tracks. The group of boys with guns began firing deliberately at the other youngsters and one of the pellets hit young Springer, the boy told police.

Police located the group of three gun-toting boys. They said one had a conventional BB gun, but the others had pellet-firing weapons. One of the pellet guns was a .22 caliber, but the other fired a larger missile, about the size of a .45, officers said.

Police said the boys responsible for the shooting are 16, 15 and 13. Two reside on W. 8th St. and the other lives on lower St. Clair Ave.

The Springer boy's injury brought a stern warning against use of BB and pellet guns from Chief Ambassador J. Radeschi. Officers have been ordered to confiscate BB guns, pellet guns, slingshots and other dangerous weapons found in the possession of juveniles, the chief said. He urged parents not to permit the use of dangerous weapons by juveniles.

Toledo Spared As Ice Floats Into Lake Erie

All Further Ohio Flood Threats End; Mopping Up Begins

By The Associated Press

The last remaining bits and pieces of a massive ice pack in the Maumee River flowed sluggishly into Lake Erie today, and with them went all further flood threats for Ohio.

The ice's final casualty, apparently, was the ill-fated cruise ship Canadiana, crippled anew by huge rip in its starboard bow. The 210-foot Great Lakes excursion ship was put out of commission last July after colliding with a railroad bridge spanning the Maumee at Toledo.

Ice from an earlier jam tore an 18-inch gash along a seam in one of the Canadiana's forward compartments Thursday night. Her owner, Gordon Vizeau, feared the second and final ice pack this morning would sink his ship, but the ice passed, and the Canadiana is still afloat.

Emergency crewmen worked throughout the early morning hours to pump out water and managed to right the ship from a 20-degree starboard list to a 5-degree list.

The Maumee River, meanwhile, has dropped to its normal level and Ohio's second major flooding in three weeks has ended.

The river, backed up by the ice, had overflowed in several spots along a 20-mile stretch southwest of Toledo.

The jam swept through Toledo and carried with it a pile driver, a barge and two sea rescue boats moored at the Maumee River Yacht Club.

When flows piled up at a New York Central System bridge over the river, 20 loaded coal cars were pushed onto the span to weight it down. The bridge was not damaged.

Finally, the ice floated into the lake.

In other Ohio communities hit by the latest surge of floods, residents were returning to their homes. The second flood cleanup was underway.

Newark, which lost its water supply when a dam burst, was almost back to normal. Auxiliary pumping equipment got pressure in the city's mains up to 90 pounds, 20 pounds below normal. Schools and industry re-opened.

There was no overall estimate of damage in the recent floods, which centered in northern Ohio—Fremont, Findlay, Warren, Van Wert, Paulding and Ottawa. However, losses were expected to be far below the 96 million dollars done by January floods.

Three persons died in the latest flooding. There were 15 known flood victims in January.

Condition Satisfactory

Dulles Operation Called Successful

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today underwent a successful operation for hernia.

State Department press chief Lincoln White announced the surgery was successful and Dulles' immediate postoperative condition was quite satisfactory.

White said tissue and fluid were removed during the operation "for microscopic examination."

Such an examination would be to determine whether there was a cancerous condition.

White said Dulles was on the operating table less than an hour.

White's announcement to newsmen was made at the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center. The operation was performed there by the hospital commandant, Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton.

White indicated no word had come from the doctors on the results of the examination of tissues and fluids.

Word that surgery had begun was relayed to newsmen around 8:10 a. m.

The announcement of results came about 2½ hours later.

The secretary, who will be 71 Feb. 25, entered the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center last Tuesday. Since then each State Department bulletin on his condition has been almost identical: sleeping well, eating well, in good spirits.

Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, the hospital commandant, arranged to perform the operation. He said it was relatively simple, a bit more complicated than, say, an adenoid operation.

The White House has vehemently denied reports Eisenhower is considering possible replacements for Dulles should he resign.

Ware Official Urges Crews Return To Job

Statement By Wells Disputes Comments Of IBOP President

The 1,500 Homer Laughlin China Co. employees idled intermittently for more than a week were asked to return to their jobs today in a statement issued by Joseph M. Wells, secretary-treasurer of the dinnerware firm, who also hit at statements made Thursday by E. L. Wheatley, president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

When Wheatley asserted that he will not tell workers barred by a picket line to return to work or order them to stay out, he "obviously leaves the door open for the individual to do as he or she pleases," Wells' statement said.

"We are naturally hopeful that our employees will accept this opportunity to come back to their jobs . . ." it added.

Women gold stamperers have picketed the plant nearly every day since Feb. 5, when a dispute erupted over the question of whether the gold stamperers or underglaze decorators should operate a new underglaze stamping machine.

In his statement yesterday, Wheatley said that an agreement to postpone settlement of the grievance pending a general wage conference in Pittsburgh never was made at any discussion between the firm's management and the union.

Wells agreed, but declared he never made any such statements. Wells said the agreement was reached between the labor committee of the U. S. Potters Association, which he heads, and the Executive Board of the IBOP.

Wheatley also contended that figures issued by Wells indicated Laughlin employees have been earning an average of $1.33 hourly. Wells pointed out that because of part-time work schedules in the last 6 months not all 1,500 employees are on the job each day, but their earnings have averaged close to $2 an hour.

Meanwhile, Homer Laughlin's production still was halted today as the women pickets barred the plant entrances again this morning.

Settlement of the dispute apparently will be complicated by the fact Wheatley left town yesterday on official business, scheduled to be gone several weeks.

The text of Wells' statement follows: "It is most distasteful to con-

Venezuela Wary Of Reds At Romulo's Inauguration

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Troops and police stood guard today against the threats of Communists and rightists to disrupt the inauguration of President Romulo Betancourt.

Betancourt, 50, a moderate leftist and political veteran, is Venezuela's first freely elected president in 10 years. The leader of the Democratic Action party, he is opposed by supporters of ousted dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez, Caracans who voted heavily for the leader of the junta which replaced Perez Jimenez, and the Reds.

Intelligence agents said the opposition planned street disorders during the inauguration, with women dressed in black to block traffic around the Capitol while demonstrators denounced the president.

The newspaper Pregon said free liquor was distributed in a big working class neighborhood to get gangs of youths drunk so they would roam the streets and cause trouble.

A demonstration reportedly arranged for midnight in the central El Silencio district of Caracas did not come off, however. Streets in the area were practically deserted. The district was the site of battles between police and rioters Tuesday night.

Betancourt ordered the inaugual ceremonies kept simple because of the legacy of unemployment and poverty from the ousted dictatorship. He dispensed with the usual parade, grand ball and banquet.

The most elaborate event was a formal reception Thursday night at the Foreign Ministry for foreign delegates to the inaugural.

Only a small crowd turned out in the Plaza Bolivar to watch the guests in evening dress.

Betancourt made plain that he would not rush ahead with the proposals by leftist and nationalistic elements that the foreign operators of the oil industry give the profits.

Only 4 Attend Meeting

Council To Abandon Fund Talks For Lack Of Interest

Council probably will abandon its plan to explain municipal financial problems in a series of informal meetings with interested citizens after only four persons showed up at City Hall Thursday night to hear a review of income and expenditures in 1958.

Council had invited 16 representatives from 8 organizations, but the only persons who appeared were James Lowe and James Moss, representing the Board of Education, and Mrs. Clara Hall and Donald Hancock, representing the City Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations.

TEN PUBLIC officials were on hand to help explain the city's finances, including Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper and seven members of Council.

Despite the small size of the audience, they went ahead with a full dress review of the city's income and expenses last year, followed by a general discussion on municipal problems that covered a total of nearly an hour and a half.

The highlight of the meeting was an exchange between Lowe and Moss over the non-appearance of a Trades and Labor Council representative. Moss has been active in Trades Council for years, although he emphasized last night that he appeared for the Board of Education and was not speaking for the central body.

"I came here tonight expecting to see a lot more people," Lowe commented. "I wonder why Trades and Labor Council is not represented and I also wonder why it took such an adverse attitude toward the city income tax."

IN REPLY, COUNCIL President B. E. Warner said Trades Council was invited to send a representative to the first such meeting Jan. 23 and that it also was asked to be represented at last night's discussion.

"You had a meeting scheduled originally on the city finances on Jan. 7 at Westgate," Moss replied. "It fell on a Trades and Labor meeting night, but they voted to suspend their regular meeting on Jan. 7 in order to attend that meeting. Don't blame Trades Council. What happened to that meeting that was to be held at Westgate?"

Councilman A. Stanley Kidder replied that Council decided on a series of small, informal meetings on finances rather than one large session "and in that way everyone would have a better chance to talk."

"There is no criticism leveled here at Trades and Labor," Lowe said. "But I would ask if Trades and Labor, since it saw so much wrong in the other proposal, has brought up anything to replace it."

IN THE COURSE of the brief discussion, Moss emphasized that he was not speaking for Trades Council.

Joseph A. Winters, secretary, had received Council's invitation on behalf of Trades Council. Other organizations that were not represented last night included: Junior Chamber of Commerce, East Liv-

County Theft Suspect Admits 55 Burglaries

LISBON — A Canfield college student accused of the burglary of a Columbiana County antique shop has admitted a total of 55 robberies in the Mahoning County area.

Mahoning Sheriff Paul Langley said Cornelius J. Splain, 19, of Canfield R. D. admitted 40 home burglaries in the Boardman, Poland and Austintown area and 15 in the Youngstown city area. He is free on $5,000 bond, pending Mahoning County Grand Jury action, in one case. He pleaded innocent when arraigned Feb. 7 before Municipal Judge Forrest J. Cavalier in Youngstown.

He was held earlier for the Columbiana County Grand Jury in the burglary of the antique shop owned by R. Max Gard, county commissioner, near Lisbon, and was freed under $1,000 bond.

$3,500 Loss Estimated In Glenmoor Fire

Loss was estimated at $3,500 in a fire which razed a three-room cottage in the Glenmoor area about midnight.

Chief Kenneth Mills of Glenmoor said the frame home of Tony Maola of Lisbon St. Ext. was leveled.

The loss included nearly all of the furnishings although a refrigerator may possibly be restored to service, according to Glenmoor volunteer firemen.

Only the walls of the structure were standing when firemen arrived but they poured some 1,300 gallons of water from three fire trucks and another of the Glenmoor Civil Defense unit into the blaze.

The cause was not determined, but it is believed that a short circuit in the wiring may have been responsible, Mills said. The home was insured, firemen said.

An agent of the arson squad of the Youngstown deputy state fire marshal's office was due to make an investigation.

Maola, who resided alone, was at work at the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland at the time. He was taken to the home of a sister in Midland, firemen said.

Father And Child Hurt When Auto Strikes Pole

An East End man and his son were injured Thursday when the father's auto skidded into a utility pole at Martin St. and Ridge Alley, police said.

Wesley J. Wilson, 31, of 532 Palissey St. and his son, David, 9, were treated at City Hospital for minor injuries. The father suffered abrasions of both knees and the son was treated for three bumps on the head, including one over the left eye, police said. They were taken to the hospital in a police cruiser.

Wilson told police he was driving north on Martin and attempting a left turn into the alley when the car skidded into the utility pole, damaging the right front.

Council To Abandon Discussion Series

erpool Women's Club, Quota Club, B'nai Jacob Synagogue and B'nai Israel Temple. The first such session on Jan. 23 attracted 19 representatives from 12 civic, service and veterans' organizations.

The session last night was scheduled for 8, but Council delayed the start about 20 minutes because only the four persons were in the audience. When it became apparent no one else would appear, Warner started the discussion.

He read off item-by-item the figures on 10 typewritten sheets listing the city's general fund income last year, followed by disbursements by major funds, including the general, safety, service and health. The report disclosed that the general funds wound up 1958 with a balance of $22,851—with income of $450,935 balanced against an outlay of $436,083. Income tax revenue for approximately six months totaled $137,000, it showed.

A SEPARATE report on street department funds showed total receipts of $146,572 and expenditures of $136,699, leaving a balance of $9,872. Street department funds, normally derived solely from auto license and gas tax revenues, were supplemented last year by $9,516 transferred from income tax funds, the report showed.

Copies of the report were run off on a rotary duplicator to be mailed to all the organizations that sent representatives to the first discussion on finances, Warner said.

As part of the discussion, Mayor Lawrence pointed again to the city government's share of the 30.4 mill local tax rate — which means $30.40 per $1,000 of property valuation.

The city receives 7.9 mills, the county gets 3.4 mills, schools are given 18.6 mills and the state gets half a mill, the mayor said. Of the city's millage, only 1.9 mills is earmarked for general operations, as 2.5 mills goes for garbage and trash collection, 1 mill is the so-called "firemen's salary levy," 1.75 mills are for bond retirement

President Is Re-Elected

NAACP Chapter To Seek Fair Store Employment

The East Liverpool branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People launched a campaign Thursday night seeking fair employment practices in local stores.

A committee, Joseph Lombard, John Chavis, Lee Spencer, Earl Taylor, Mrs. Winifred Jones, Mrs. Verna Myers and Mrs. Juanita Lombard, was named to handle the campaign.

The branch also made a contribution to the Ohio NAACP to push for fair employment practice legislation.

Caesar A. Peters was re-elected president. Others returned were Mrs. Martha Brooks, first vice president; Mrs. Sara Johnson, second vice president; Mrs. Matlean Singleton, third vice president; Mrs. Elizabeth Carter, secretary; Mrs. Annie Mae Jones, assistant secretary; Miss Jeanette Richardson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Dorothy E. Peters, financial secretary, and Alton Spencer, political action chairman.

Joseph Lombard was elected treasurer and Mrs. Robert Chavis was named membership chairman.

The group also endorsed Spencer for the Democratic nomination and a three-quarter-mill levy voted by the public goes to City Hospital upkeep, he said.

LOWE POINTED out that the income derived from the city's parking meter fees, $63,366 in 1958, nearly equals the amount derived from real estate and personal property tax, which totaled $74,258 last year.

Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. pointed to some expenses he said the public is not generally aware of. For example, a truck load of ashes costs the city $21 to $23 in labor expenses, he estimated. That's because the city may send 20 trucks to the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. in a week's time to haul back ashes, but actually may obtain only 5 loads, Sample said.

Councilman H. A. Tullis said the shortage of ashes at the mill resulted from a cutback in operations. The same reason lies behind a comparative shortage of slag available from the mill, he added.

After reading the fund reports, Warner asked: "Where in these figures can you see money to do a good job on St. Clair Ave.? Where can you see funds to do any major street work?"

HE ALSO POINTED to the need for construction of a new North Side fire station, repair or replacement of two big concrete retaining walls overlooking Pennsylvania Ave. at Mulberry St. and Park Way and the need to correct a recurring landslide that has damaged the "Hill Rd." repeatedly.

"Have you given up on this thing?" Lowe asked. "Are you not going to try to get other revenue?" "So far we haven't come up with the solution," Warner replied. "I think you'll find if the citizens are advised of all the facts they'll go for a new tax or a tax increase," Lowe said. "I think there are enough citizens to go out and sell this thing."

"Apparently we still haven't done as good a selling job as we should have," Warner replied. "Our approach is to lay it on the line and show the people we aren't asking for money we don't need."

LOWE ESTIMATED that under the income tax ordinance about 25 to 30 per cent of the revenue came from persons who reside outside the city, but work here.

"Sooner or later we're going to have to get new revenue," Warner said. "I don't believe the citizens will just sit and let the town come tumbling down around their ears."

Turning to other projects that have been suggested — but postponed for lack of funds — Councilman Samuel B. Webber mentioned a proposal to synchronize and modernize the city's traffic light system. But it was learned that the cost would be $35,000, he said. Sample added that the city's traffic light system is 35 years old.

Councilman George E. Willshaw cited the need of a new fire department pumper to replace a 28-year-old piece of equipment. Continuing the income tax program would have allowed construction of a trunk line sewer to make it possible to install a sanitary sewer system in the Gardendale area.

Willshaw added, Webber pointed out that a trunk line also would have been installed to clear the way for a sanitary sewer project in the Sunnyside section of Pleasant Heights.

As the meeting closed, Moss asked for figures on the city's total bonded debt. Cooper estimated it stands at about $185,000. Sample said the city has reduced its debt because it has not been forced to issue any bonds for about 32 months.

Boys Confess Theft Series

Defendants, 17, 13, Face Juvenile Court

EAST PALESTINE — A series of enterings and thefts dating back to Aug. 4 has been admitted by a 17-year-old area youth and a neighborhood companion, 13, according to Chief of Police Richard Lotze.

The two are slated for action by Juvenile Court authorities today in connection with enterings of the Veterans of Foreign Wars home, an E. Clark St. second-hand store and the junior high school.

Police had leads on the older boy earlier this month and when he left home, an area alert was issued by the sheriff's office at Lisbon and he was apprehended at Portsmouth, Va., over the weekend.

In questioning by Lisbon authorities, the youth implicated the younger boy who was taken into custody yesterday and signed a confession. The boy said he merely accompanied the youth, "going along for the ride."

The two entered the VFW home Aug. 4, taking glassware, silver ware and money from a jar totaling over $20. In December they went into the Ray Alcorn second-hand store, taking a .32-caliber pistol which they said they later threw into a field while riding near Negley.

They also entered the VFW last month, but took nothing, they said, and were in the junior high school building but ran out when a school official arrived for a routine check.

In the March

Magazine

Pittsburgh was washed away its grime and soot and dirt and replaced it with a flowing new countenance. And the citizens of the steel city couldn't be happier with the result.

In the March Holiday, author Herbert Kubly describes the many surprises that greeted him when he returned to Pittsburgh after a long absence. The old "Mellon Patch" had turned into "Mellon's Miracle." The crumbling railroad sheds and blighted buildings had been replaced by a brilliant golden triangle.

The city has changed since the days of Carnegie, Frick and Mellon, but their spirit and vigor have been preserved by two latter-day giants: Richard King Mellon and David Lawrence. You'll want to know your friends and neighbors are such energetic supermen and see the colorful illustrations of familiar scenes.

There Could Be More Questions Later

Michael J. Genovese, identified in news dispatches as a "Pittsburgh underworld character," testified this week at Washington before the Senate Labor Rackets Committee.

He employed the Fifth Amendment to avoid answering questions asked by Robert Kennedy, committee counsel. These were some of the questions:

"Did you attend the meeting of underworld leaders at Apalachian, N. Y., Nov. 14, 1957?"

"Are you not the primary figure in the control of numbers and rackets in East Pittsburgh and Homestead?"

"What do you know about the attempt of John Mannarino to transport 50 guns stolen from an armory in Canton, Ohio, by plane to Cuba?"

And this one close to home: "Have you any interest in the Club 30 at Chester, W. Va.?"

As district residents know, Club 30, as such, is no longer in operation. And it was not in Chester, but just off Route 30, east of Chester. But the great majority of others who will have read the Washington dispatches don't know this. They will associate Club 30 with Chester itself.

It's an association we wouldn't relish were we a civic-minded resident of the community, or any other part of Hancock County for that matter.

Club 30 was in pretty fast and notorious company when it was included with questions about the Apalachian meeting, about numbers and rackets and about gun smuggling charges. This type of publicity can be nothing but adverse for all but those who were involved in the operation of the club.

The question could be asked again in the not too distant future—about an operation just across the highway from former Club 30—if things are permitted to continue as they are now.

A Helping Hand From East Palestine

Thanks to the thoughtfulness, generosity and endeavors of a group of people from East Palestine, Columbiana County soon will place in operation a juvenile-receiving home.

The two-story structure which will house the facilities is the gift of Roger M. Kyes of Detroit as a memorial to his parents, Lafayette M. and Myra E. Kyes, both of pioneer families in the Palestine and Rogers area.

The boys' and girls' committee of the East Palestine Kiwanis Club was the moving force behind the project following the defeat of a proposed bond issue in November which would have provided funds for such a home.

County residents owe a debt of gratitude to both Mr. Kyes and members of the Kiwanis Club. By their actions, they will serve not only their county, but will extend a helping hand to children greatly in need of whatever assistance and guidance that may come their way.

As Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin explained, "the home will be used exclusively to house neglected children." The facilities at the county jail in Lisbon still will be used for delinquent children.

The world must be a confused and puzzling place to a neglected child.

As in all such deeds of generosity, the burden now falls on the shoulders of those who have accepted the gift. It is up to the county authorities concerned to see that the new home is put to the use for which it is intended in the most efficient manner possible. There is every reason to believe that they will fulfill this obligation.

Is SUB An Ohio Emergency?

If it is the majority opinion in Ohio that employees who have been entitled to supplemental unemployment benefits under wage contracts with their employers need their benefits without further delay, what is the issue in the General Assembly over legalizing the distribution of these funds?

The Ohio Senate has voted to legalize SUB, but has failed to give its action immediate effect. The Ohio House now must take up the same question. If it concurs in the Senate's decision, SUB will not be payable until three months after the legislation has been passed.

This would be a disappointment to employees with SUB benefits coming, and nothing anyone can say will soften the blow. But there are, nevertheless, questions issue about SUB — first, whether it should be legalized at all and, second, whether it should be legalized in a manner that prevents a statewide referendum. That would be the result if it were legalized with an emergency clause; there could be no referendum.

The issue is this:

Whether the General Assembly should take certain unions and employers of a legal hook by changing the law to permit them to do something they agreed to do in a contract whose effect was legally cloudy, or whether it is up to them to take themselves off the hook.

There never has been and is not now any authorization in Ohio law to let one group of employees collect supplemental benefits that are barred to all other employees. Granted that there never has been a showdown on the precise question raised by SUB, it must be further that the General Assembly settle the question out of hand. It has an obligation to think not only of the employees who want SUB right away but of the far larger number of employees who have no SUB coming.

It has an obligation, as well, to think of thousands of Ohio employers who would be affected by what would amount to a fundamental change in their cost of doing business. Whether the AFL-CIO, which is demanding post-haste action in Columbus by the newly elected Democratic majority in the Assembly, wants to admit it or not, there is vastly more at stake in SUB than the first round of deferred payments.

Welcome, Wrestlers

The two-day regional wrestling competition which gets under way today at Memorial Auditorium is more than an athletic event. It's an opportunity for the entire community to play the role of gracious host to those who will be our guests during the matches—wrestlers, coaches, school officials, parents and other fans alike.

The tournament itself is of major importance. The fine squads that have represented East Liverpool High School in recent years have fostered a deeper appreciation of the art of wrestling. We're sure the competition will be of the keenest.

But of equal importance is our chance to be the friendly neighbor. Fourteen surrounding communities will be represented at the tournament. When not at the MA the visitors will be giving us the once over. The impressions they take home will depend entirely upon our actions.

Let's make them want to visit East Liverpool again.

By H. I. Phillips

dealer. It easily whipped Bardstown, top Calumet horse, in the recent classic. And the trainer was a stable boy rushed into the job when the regular trainer decided he could do better with other skinnies. The kid jockey named Grant rode Sharpsburg. Grant took Bardstown like U.S. Grant took Richmond.

"Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee and we beg Thy blessing upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country."

Believe it or not the above prayer for schoolchildren is being fought and a Long Island court test case is near. If you're not already made completely dizzy by the American scene, this could do it.

In a day of shocking juvenile crimes, school vandalism and beating up of teachers, the idea of battling a 22-word prayer is hard to take. (Hey, Soviet Russia. You can ease up on your drive to kill religion among the young in America. You're getting an "assist" on the home grounds.)

"FIGHT PRAYER IN SCHOOL" makes a curious headline against "Child Shoots Sister," "Tots Rob Mother," "Boy Kills His Whole Family," "Teacher Slugged by Pupil," "Teen-agers Hijack Truck," "Schoolgirl Held as Murder Accomplice," and "Kids Wreck School." (Take another tranquilizer, Mother. It's a queer world.)

Arguments in first test case in Mineola to keep even a quickie prayer out of school could be drowned out by "Extra! All About Grandmother Poisoned by 10-Year-Old Boy," roar of squad cars, and distant gunfire between cops and moppets.

If you can object to this prayer as going too far you can object to a whispered salute to the flag and a kid's cold smile for a priest, minister or rabbi dedicating a playground.

The two-lettered English word "by" can be used as a noun, verb, adjective, and preposition.

The Weak Spot

The One-Man Brain Trust Quits Hoffa

By Victor Riesel

The redhead is going out of Jim Hoffa's life. To insiders this will mean that the suave strategist who braintruster the Teamster chief from courtrooms to colleges, from bistro to bank presidents, from shadowy anonymity to klieg light publicity, is quitting.

Definitely making certain that his client Victor Riesel was the one in the limelight, the redheaded eminence of that narrow space behind Hoffa's throne is little known to the nation. He is Edward T. Cheyfitz, debonair counselor to unions and corporations, gourmet and fashion plate, collector of obscure art and globally celebrated man of power. Be they labor leaders, statesmen or tycoons, "Eddie" has them as first name friends.

Seldom has Hoffa—or the Teamsters, for that matter—been without the redhead in the background. Name any incident or any twist in Hoffa's fortunes — and Eddie was in it. And before Hoffa, the redhead guided Dave Beck.

IT WAS CHEYFITZ who "found" Ed Williams, Hoffa's court jester. Cheyfitz became his associate and shared offices and Teamster fees with the dashing black-haired Williams in the Hill Building in Washington, D.C.

That is over, too. For on March 1 Edward Cheyfitz, former leader of the tool and die workers of the old militant CIO, now counselor and one-man public and industrial relations institution, will move out. This Cheyfitz confirmed with a terse, "It's true. I'm quitting. I need more room."

To Jimmy Hoffa, the "brain's" quitting sounds like bad news or an ill omen.

The same "brain" quit Dave Beck just before the deluge. At that time Cheyfitz told insiders that Beck, whom he had toured through Europe and introduced to prime ministers and presidents, would not take advice.

When Beck barked that he could handle anything, Cheyfitz, who had climbed Mt. Vesuvius with a real Italian idyll, quit. A real volcano, yes, a human volcano, no. It is said that Cheyfitz can feel the earth rumbling without a seismograph — if you'll permit me to mix my metaphors.

CHEYFITZ, meanwhile, had become Hoffa's gold eagle guy. It did not take all of Eddie's time to make Hoffa the Teamsters' provisional president.

There were enough hours for consultation with at least 12 corporations in the glass, steel, auto and maritime fields.

Now Cheyfitz says he needs more space, not time. And those who see the Hoffa saga as the most dramatic power struggle of all recent history wonder why.

It is said that Cheyfitz thinks Hoffa will be out-manuevered and that the pressure is moving lava-like against the embattled Teamster chief from inside the union as well as from the government.

There are trend spotters who believe they see Cheyfitz watching a revolt inside the Teamsters. Hoffa's men have been beaten in recent elections in enough cities to make a trend.

Early in December, many of his boys lost in New York City and Newark, N.J., locals. They were beaten in a Los Angeles poll for union leadership.

THEY COULDN'T keep control of a large Scranton, Pa., local whose members shouted down Hoffa's boys' demands that some jailed Teamster officials be kept on the payroll. Hoffa flew to Cincinnati to try and save an important local presidency there. He was voted down.

In Toronto, rank-and-file fighters fought his emissaries on a vital issue. Hoffa tried to take over the local, but 450 members revolted and told him to go to hell. Tough opposition continues to build up in St. Louis and Pittsburgh and some New York and New England cities.

All this has developed and strengthened within the past 60 days. Daily Hoffa's phone in the big marble palace is rung by lieutenants telling him to rush to some spot across country to quiet the restlessness.

Edward Cheyfitz may be quitting the Teamsters as strategist and may be walking out on the law firm which handles them because he needs more space. Or because his built-in political seismograph reports deep rumblings all over the place — and he just doesn't like earthquakes.

Great Story Of Day

By Ralph McGill

ATLANTA

An intelligent observer, with an hour to wait in the Elath Airport near Solomon's old seaport in Israel, wrote a letter:

"A visit here would renew many faiths in man's ability to rise above all disaster and tragedy, in what man can do with intelligence, will, work and courage. The accomplishments in the six years since my last visit defy belief. You see them and, remembering the past, you wonder if they can be real."

"I have seen the country now from the sea to Jerusalem and from the north to the port of Elath, where the lights of Aquaba seem almost to shine in your eyes, so near it is. There, two Israeli destroyers stand guard and the United Nations' house gives comfort. But, perhaps even more significant, a new Israeli factory prepares granite for export to Italy and ships load other cargo and bring in oil for the pipeline."

"The increase in fruit orchards, vineyards and wooded area through Galilee and in the Jerusalem corridor is tremendous. In the latter, the terracing walls are built with stones painfully dug out of the worn-out soil."

"So much more is needed to build further for the present population. But, on top of this need will come that of the current immigration of Romanians . . . 100,000 expected this year. But such as I have found nowhere else on this long journey. (It included Europe, India, Iran.)"

"The drive down here to the Gulf of Aqaba is a spectacular one, reminiscent of land formations in Arizona . . . canyons, craters, colors . . . but, what dominates everything are the constant changes and the great determination to build a country."

ELATH, from which the letter was written, is a familiar feature of the story of Solomon and the building of the temple, the visit of the Queen of Sheba and the great shipping which came to it. We find it in Kings, IX-26: "And King Solomon made a navy of ships in Eziongeber, which is beside Elath, on the shores of the Red Sea, in the land of Eden. And Hiram sent in the navy his servants, shipmen that had knowledge of the sea, with the servants of Solomon. And they came to Ophir, and fetched from thence gold, four hundred and twenty talents, and brought it to King Solomon. . . ."

Now one gets an airmail letter from the airport there.

Mention of the 100,000 Romanians who are immigrating to Israel is one of the great and somewhat mysterious stories of our time. Until now the Soviet Union has refused to permit any migration of Jews from Communist lands to Israel. It would have been a confession that the U.S.S.R. was not, as claimed, a paradise for all.

But the Communists were at last confronted with a hard, inescapable fact. Jews do not take to Communism. Neither the Communism of Russia nor of its satellites has been able to assimilate them. The exceptions prove the rule. Moscow has failed at it. It talks of establishing an all-Jewish state as a mark of its failure to convert the Jews of Russia to Marxism.

THERE IS YET another aspect, an important one.

Permitting 100,000 Jews to migrate from Romania to Israel is an affront to Nasser of Egypt and all other Arab nations which bitterly resent any increase in Israel's strength.

The Romanians will bring skills and manpower. They will be a tremendous drain on the resources of supply and housing until they can be integrated into the agricultural and industrial life of the state. But they will provide extra hands and Israel is perhaps the hardest working country in the free world today.

Permission for the Romanians to move to Israel, with the possibility that others from other Communist satellites will receive it, marks a major shift in Soviet policy. It means they are not now too interested in keeping Egypt happy.

It is most unlikely, but it might mean eventual Soviet trade with Israel. The new nation is the only industrial center in the Middle East.

Israel remains a focus of tension. But with its courage and faith and the toughest little army of real fighters in the area, it is also one of the great stories of our time.

Down Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Eighty-three conversions were recorded in the revival at the Newell Church of the Nazarene.

Rosey Pansy, Midland boxer, left for Italy and France for a six-month ring campaign.

The 45th anniversary of the East Liverpool Salvation Army was observed with a concert.

The great pyramids in Egypt were built of great blocks of stone, each weighing approximately two and one-half tons. These were cut out by great gangs of men from the cliffs of the Nile and carried across the river on barges. It required one hundred thousand men 20 years to build the Pyramid of Cheops, the largest of these structures.

Lincoln On Equality

By David Lawrence

Quotations Recalled From Famous Speeches

The nation is celebrating this week the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. Eloquent eulogies are being spoken — and he deserves them all. But if what Abraham Lincoln said just 100 years ago were attributed today to anyone else in public life, the same utterances would be denounced as coming from a "radical," or "extremist," or a person who "defies" the Constitution.

David Lawrence

Few people realize how outspoken Abraham Lincoln was against a Supreme Court decision and how he insisted that a mere overturning of precedent in a ruling was not "settled law." It was just 100 years ago when Abraham Lincoln was debating with Stephen Douglas in the State of Illinois.

Only a few months ago the Library of Congress published a book containing facsimiles of the printers' copy of the stenographic record of Lincoln-Douglas debates "as edited and prepared for the press by Abraham Lincoln."

Following is a quotation from Mr. Lincoln's speech delivered on July 13, 1858, at Chicago:

"The sacredness that Judge Douglas throws around this decision (of the Supreme Court of the United States) is a degree of sacredness that has never been before thrown around any other decision. I have never heard of such a thing. Why, decisions apparently contrary to that decision, or that good lawyers thought were contrary to that decision, have been made by that very court before. It is the first of its kind; it is an astonisher in legal history — it is a new wonder of the world."

IN SPEAKING further of the Dred Scott Decision, Mr. Lincoln said at Quincy, Ill., on Oct. 13, 1858:

"But we nevertheless do oppose that decision as a political rule which shall be binding on the voter to vote for nobody who thinks it wrong, which shall be binding on the members of Congress or the president to favor no measure that does not actually concur with the principles of that decision. We do not propose to be bound by it as a political rule in that way. . . . we propose so resisting it as to have it reversed if we can, and a new judicial rule established upon this subject."

In another speech delivered in Chicago on July 17, 1858, Mr. Lincoln quoted with approval a letter from Thomas Jefferson, written in 1820, which declared that if the judges of the Supreme Court are to be considered as "the ultimate arbiters of all constitutional questions," this could be a "very dangerous doctrine indeed and one which would place us under the despotism of an oligarchy."

The Three Big Issues

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON
As 1959 unfolds, the big issues between Democrats and Republicans seem to be spending, the quality of American defense, and foreign policy.

And at this point the water in which all three issues are swimming is a little murky, or rolled, as fishermen say.

The anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth is one of the best times of the year for seeing what kind of ammunition the Republicans think they have for firing at the Democrats.

This year one Republican speaker after another hit at spending or, to put it another way, called for action to avoid inflation by spending no more than President Eisenhower asked in his budget message last January.

Economy was the constant theme of the speeches. In hitting this the speakers were following the lead of Eisenhower who has been banging away at the "big spenders" in the Democratic-run Congress.

The Republican attempt to picture the Democrats as spenders already had gotten under the Democratic skin, with Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas setting the pace in firing back.

Johnson, leader of the Senate Democrats, has cracked back with phrases like these: "To set up the present administration as the guardian of the balanced budget is in the same class as hiring a coyote for a watchdog over sheep."

This year's Republican speakers hit on other themes — like protecting civil rights — but economy was the main one.

The Democrats already have been assailing the Eisenhower administration by questioning the quality of the defense program sponsored by the President. They ask: Is defense being jeopardized by Eisenhower economy?

This is indeed a murky field since the "experts" are wrangling among themselves and the public is hardly in a position to know who's right.

Democrats have been critical of the administration's conduct of foreign affairs but when these differences are examined they are not really basic differences but rather differences in details.

IN A SPEECH delivered at Ottawa, Ill., on Aug. 21, 1858, Mr. Lincoln took up the race question. He denounced slavery, but then added:

"I have no purpose to introduce political and social equality between the white and the black races. There is a physical difference between the two, which in my judgment will probably forever forbid their living together upon the footing of perfect equality, and inasmuch as it becomes a necessity that there must be a difference, I, as well as Judge Douglas, am in favor of the race to which I belong having the superior position."

"I have never said anything to the contrary, but I hold that notwithstanding all this, there is no reason in the world why the Negro is not entitled to all the natural rights enumerated in the Declaration of Independence, the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. I hold that he is as much entitled to these as the white man."

"I agree with Judge Douglas, he is not my equal in many respects — certainly not in color, perhaps not in moral or intellectual endowment. But in the right to eat the bread, without leave of anybody else, which his own hand earns, he is my equal and the equal of Judge Douglas, and the equal of every living man. . . ."

"What Next? Free them and make them politically and socially our equals? My own feelings will not admit of this; and if mine would, we well know that those of the great mass of white people will not. Whether this feeling accords with justice and sound judgment is not the sole question, if, indeed it is any part of it. A universal feeling whether well or ill-founded, cannot be safely disregarded. We cannot, then, make them equals. . . ."

WITH FURTHER reference to the equality or inequality of the races, Mr. Lincoln said, on Sept. 18, 1858, at Charleston, Ill.:

"I will say then that I am not, nor ever have been in favor of bringing about in any way the social and political equality of the white and black races — that I am not nor ever have been in favor of making voters or jurors of Negroes, nor of qualifying them to hold office, nor to intermarry with white people; and I will say in addition to this that there is a physical difference between the white and black races which I believe will forever forbid the two races living together on terms of social and political equality. And inasmuch as they cannot so live, while they do remain together there must be the position of superior and inferior, and I as much as any other man am in favor of having the superior position assigned to the white race. . . . I will add to this that I have never seen to my knowledge a man, woman or child who was in favor of producing a perfect equality, social and political, between Negroes and white men."

Again the public — which can't know what the insiders know — can only guess as to who is right.

Nevertheless, spending, defense and foreign policy disputes will probably dominate Democratic and Republican statements for the rest of the year.

In an evolving society like this the political issues seldom seem to change suddenly or be abandoned. Rather they change little by little until, as the years go by, one finally isn't heard of any more and something else takes its place.

Yet, a check back on the issues Republicans raised at Lincoln Day dinners in past years shows that at least one thing which was an issue in 1950 is still being hammered on.

It was spending. In 1950 President Truman and his Democratic administration had the job of running the country now held by Eisenhower and his administration and what he called the "reckless spending" and "socialist programs of the New Deal."

That was also the year when Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin began his crusade against Communists in government. It was a theme which served the Republicans well for a while but in four years, or after McCarthy was brushed aside by his fellow senators, it faded away and no one this year was talking about it.

Salton Sea, north of Brawley, Calif., is 244 feet below sea level. About 20 miles wide, it is a particularly fertile valley where cantaloupes and fruits flourish.

Strike

tinued this controversy through the press, but Mr. Wheatley has seen fit to question the veracity of some of my statements and since he is not available (having left this city for several weeks) for discussion in person, there seems no alternative.

"Mr. Wheatley does not agree with my statement regarding the making of any agreement or settlement during any session held with company representatives discussing this dispute." A careful study of my article will reveal I made no such statement.

"I did say that a meeting between the officials of the Brotherhood and the labor committee of the U. S. Pottery Association, the committee agreed to go along with a suggestion of Mr. Wheatley's that the entire dispute be referred to the general wage conference scheduled for next April, and that all members of our committee believed this settled the matter till that time.

"Either Mr. Wheatley's arithmetic is not up to par or he is woefully ignorant of conditions in our industry. He states that our daily payroll of $20,000 for 1,500 employees figures average individual earnings of $1.33 per hour. Simple arithmetic will show that if all 1,500 employees worked on a single 8-hour day they would average 1.66 cents per hour. However, due to the present low ebb of business, full time is not available to all our employees and the number at work at any given day is considerably less than 1,500. Actually for the past 6 months the average earnings per hour worked is close to $2.

We are quite mystified by the present position of Mr. Wheatley and his board in view of their statement that they denounce all illegal strikes and lockouts. Since this is their position, they are clearly obligated to order their people back to work in the present circumstances. There can be no question that the strike is illegal since Mr. Wheatley has said repeatedly that he has ordered the gold stamp girls to return to their jobs.

"Yet the furthest he will go in respect to the other innocently suffering members of his organization is to tell them he will not order them to go back nor will he order them to stay out. This obviously leaves the door open for the individual to do as he or she pleases.

"We are naturally hopeful that all of our employees will accept this opportunity to come back to their jobs, which will be held open to them for a limited time."

A joint statement from Wheatley and Charles Jordan, IBOP secretary-treasurer, was published today in the Potters Herald, official union newspaper. It said:

"Our present investigation indicates that the Homer Laughlin China Co. is making changes in conditions of work that in our opinion are a breach of the contract regarding the rights of gold stampers to follow their trade and discriminatory against their trade.

"The Brotherhood recognizes the right of every employee to exercise their individual right to refuse to work under conditions which in his or her opinion are intolerable."

Harker Walkout Ends With Discussions Set

The dispute apparently arose over production of Harker's new Thermaware body, which was introduced early in January.

8 Of Hancock Officials May Get Pay Hike

Atty. Tsapis Submits Legislation In House For Salary Increase

A bill to increase the salaries of eight Hancock County officials and a stenographer has been introduced in the House of Delegates at Charleston by Atty. Callie Tsapis (D-Hancock).

Raises proposed by Hancock County's first woman delegate are: Prosecuting attorney, from $3,800 to $5,400; assistant prosecuting attorney, from $3,000 to $3,200; sheriff, from $4,600 to $4,800; clerk of the County Court at New Cumberland, from $4,400 to $4,600; three county commissioners, from $1,800 to $2,400, plus $600 a year more for the president of county court, and stenographer in the prosecuting attorney's office, $2,800 to $3,000.

Only one county office — that of Lou H. Hill, Circuit Court clerk — was not included in the pay increase bill. Miss Tsapis pointed out yesterday that Hill had been performing only part-time duties and that the bulk of his work is done by the office stenographer.

In retaliation, Hill indicated that he would file a formal protest with Miss Tsapis. Hill, serving his third six-year term, receives a salary of $3,800 a year. He has three more years to serve in his present term.

Should the bill be enacted after being referred to a committee, Prosecutor Frank A. Pietrantoni would receive the highest increase, a raise of $1,600. Donald Stewart, clerk of County Court, would receive a $1,000 boost while Assessor Edward L. Suplee would get $800 more a year.

The commissioners — Dave Thomas of Weirton, Lyle Virden of New Cumberland and William C. Graham of Chester — would benefit by $600. Thomas, who is president of county court, will also get another raise of $600 if the bill receives favorable treatment, as expected.

Raises of $200 each would be awarded Sheriff Clayton Hobbs, and Leonard D. Alpert, assistant prosecuting attorney. Sheriff Hobbs received only a raise of $200 as he is allotted a percentage of the county's tax receipts, or an annual salary of near $12,000.

The new salary schedule will not go into effect until new terms are started by the respective officials — if the bill passes. Salaries of elective officers cannot be increased during their term in office.

Miss Tsapis was a member of a 30-member committee that prepared the bill, introduced by Harry Pauling, house speaker.

Verdict Seen Today

In Highway Land Case

LISBON — A verdict is expected this afternoon in the land appropriation case of the State Highway Department against William and Agnes E. Peterson of Lisbon R. D. 1 to determine the value of land taken for relocation of Route 164, south.

Petersons refused a state offer of $1,497 for 1.028 acres and asked a jury to decide the value. The trial began Monday before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Artifacts Tell 'History'

Club Traces Early Indians Of Area

An outline of the era of the Indians who once roamed the Tri-State area was given today by Richard S. Thompson of the Aboriginal Explorers Club, who said he has received numerous calls from persons who apparently know only of the tribes that existed in the western parts of the United States.

The club recently uncovered burial and camp sites in the immediate area.

Thompson said there are six time periods dealing with the early Indians in the Tri-State area. These periods are the key to classifying local mounds and sites of camps and villages.

The first was the Paleo Period. The Indians during this period are classified as the oldest in the Tri-State area and date back to between 8,000 B.C. and 3,000 B.C. The Paleo Indians were nomadic hunters, using rocks or possibly a large spear to hunt big animals. The disappearance of this tribe is an unsolved mystery.

The next was the Archaic Man. These people who were of small to average structure, lived by hunting, fishing and gathering seeds and roots. The Indians of this period did not hunt larger animals but lived primarily along rivers and small streams, with mussels their main food. Agriculture was not practiced.

Stone bowls was the only form of pottery. The main weapon was a spear or lance. The dead were buried in or near a midden — a refuse pile. The shell middens provide the oldest contact for study of man in this era.

The next to appear were the Early Woodland or Adena People. They were the first mound builders. The period was from 1,000 to 100 B.C.

These Indians had a highly developed, well organized society. They were the first to practice agriculture in this region, having introduced beans, squash, pumpkins and sunflowers. There is no evidence that they had corn.

The Adena People also were the first to make tempered pottery. They lived in small hamlets near a special burial place which was characterized by one or more earth mounds.

Rotary's Membership Steps Shown In Film

The "14 Steps" by which a prospective member becomes a Rotarian were explained in a film screened by Lloyd Deffenbaugh, program chairman, at a meeting of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday night at Larry's Restaurant.

Members were given questionnaires on Rotary to fill out. Mike Cloran of East Liverpool was a guest of his son-in-law, Charles Smith.

Victor George will be program chairman Thursday when a club assembly will be held and committee chairmen will give oral reports. David Schwerha is president.

Submits Low Bid

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — The S. S. Cupp Construction Co., of Washington Court House, Ohio, is apparent low bidder at $118,162 for construction of a communications building at Clinton County, Ohio, Air Force Base.

ANCIENT EVIDENCE. District Indian tribes have long vanished from the face of the earth but they left these tale-tale articles of their existence and R. S. Thompson is shown with some of the clues found by the Aboriginal Explorers Club. Pottery bowls, stone pipe, metal tomahawk heads and necklace of shells and beads are in this collection. He is holding the handle part of an early bowl and another fragment can be seen on the table before him.

The next time period was 100 to 900 A.D. This period deals with the Middle Woodland or Hopewellian Indians. They constructed large geometric earthworks in the form of circles, squares, rectangles and octagons. Ft. Ancient, Ft. Miami and Ft. Hill, all in Ohio, are examples of the Hopewellian Culture. The dead were cremated. More important persons were buried in log tombs.

Indians of the Late Prehistoric period were next on the scene.

Agriculture was practiced intensively and provided food to last during winter months. Tobacco also was cultivated. These Indians were very warlike.

The Historic Period Indians were next and they had the first contact with European fur traders. Written records of the traders gives a complete picture of their life. This period deals with the Shawnee Indian and many other Indian names with which the public is familiar.

George Antheil, Composer, Music 'Bad Boy,' Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — George Antheil, modern American composer and self-styled "Bad Boy of Music," died at his home Thursday night.

Antheil, 38, created a sensation here and in Paris in the mid-1920s with his avant-garde "Ballet Mechanique."

The cause of death was not announced. Antheil's early works depicted the jazz age and the age of steel. In "Ballet Mechanique" he made use of xylophones, electric bells, a player piano and airplane propellers.

Born in Trenton, N.J., Antheil began to study piano at 6. Four years later, he started lessons in composition with Constantin von Sternberg in Philadelphia. He continued composition work with Ernest Bloch.

A Philadelphia concert manager called for a soloist of the "fiery ultramodern variety." Antheil practiced on the piano for 36 hours straight, got the job and went on a concert tour of Europe. On that tour he was dubbed the "bad boy" composer-pianist of America. Years later, he titled his autobiography "Bad Boy of Music."

Child Blamed For Bed Fire

Firemen Continue Hunt Of Gas Fumes

A child playing with matches was blamed for a fire which damaged a mattress and bedding at the home of George Taylor, 231 W. 8th St., this morning.

Firemen said a blanket ignited and set fire to the remainder of the bedding. A booster line was used to extinguish the blaze. The alarm was received at 8:20.

Meanwhile, city firemen were to continue an investigation at the home of Wilbert Husted of 1830 Harvey Ave., where the family has been complaining of gas fumes.

Firemen were called to the home Thursday afternoon at 1:23 and discovered that fumes were coming from a sewer that had no trap. The fumes stopped leaking after a natural gas line was shut off, but firemen detected gasoline fumes leaking from an unknown source. Firemen answered a second call to the Harvey Ave. residence at 3 p. m. yesterday but a second search failed to uncover the origin of the leakage.

ELHS Newsletter Distributed Among Parents Of Students

The first issue of the ELHS Newsletter has been distributed to parents of high school students to help acquaint them with the school program.

Some 1,000 four-page letters were mailed Thursday and Supt. Ralph W. Betts said it is hoped eventually to have the newsletter cover the entire school system. Betts said he also hopes to develop a mailing list of people other than parents.

The newsletter was developed by Principal George Hargraves and the faculty public relations committee to bring the home and school closer together at the high school level.

Present plans call for four issues a year. It is being financed by the Key Club, a school organization sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

The newsletter will present brief articles on various phases of the school program, information on policies governing activities and, when available, materials of interest to parents.

The first issue discusses the club program, teen-age code, English department, and explanation on the state ban of coaching varsity athletic teams in the sixth period, Key Club, college information, honor classes and revision of the course of study.

One-page of the letter is devoted to notes from Supt. Betts' office, outlining the operation of the executive committee and the recommendations it has made, and the end of the school building program.

Mayors Back Amendment

County Group Seeks Present Jurisdiction

Support for a proposed amendment to the Ohio County Court law, which would continue present jurisdiction of mayors' courts, was authorized at a meeting of the Columbiana County Mayors Association Thursday night at Lisbon.

Mayor Earl Roudsbush of Canfield spoke on the proposed amendment, which would eliminate the presently scheduled reduction of mayor court powers Jan. 1, 1960. He is chairman of an Ohio Municipal League committee to obtain repeal of the section trimming mayors' powers.

Under the scheduled action all state cases, including any traffic citations issued on state routes inside cities and villages, are to be heard by County Courts. The mayors are seeking to retain their jurisdiction in such cases.

The mayors said city officers would be taken from duty inside their communities to attend hearings before county judges, thus depriving towns of protection and other police service. The loss of jurisdiction would mean reduction of court revenue for the cities and villages, the mayors added.

The association instructed Mayor Ralph Kennedy of Leetonia to prepare a letter of support for the proposed amendment to be sent to legislators when the bill, yet to be numbered, is submitted to the General Assembly.

Mayor Karl Lindner of Salineville, president, was in charge. Others attending were Mayors William Shoub of Wellsville, Harold Smith of Salem, Howard Hart of Hanoverton, John Todd of Lisbon and Howard Welch of New Waterford. Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem was a guest.

The next meeting will be April 2 at Hanoverton.

Plant Gets Safety Record Plaque

The Patterson Foundry & Machine Co. received a safety-service plaque Wednesday for compiling the best safety record in the metal fabricating divisions of its parent Ferro Corp. in 1958.

The presentation was part of a ceremony launching a new intensified program to control and reduce accidents.

plant engineer, is shown receiving the award from George Weber, vice president and treasurer of Ferro, as members of the union-management safety committee look on.

facturing, and Russell Frank, Ferro safety director.

Patterson is competing with other metal fabricating industries in the National Safety Council contest. The company received the 1957 safety improvement award from the council.

The current safety record is 287 days without a disabling injury but plant officials and the new committee believe it can be extended beyond a year.

Wellsville Autoist Also Faces Charges

A Salineville youth learning how to drive was cited after his car wrecked on Route 164 near Lisbon Thursday afternoon, and a Wellsville driver was cited after a super-road collision yesterday morning.

A car driven by John Bridge, 17, of 194 E. Main St., Salineville, veered off Route 164 about 2 miles south of Lisbon yesterday at 5:40 p. m. after the youth lost control, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.

The 1955 sedan went off the left side of the road, crossed back and went off the right side, hitting a utility pole and fence, officers reported. The driver was charged with reckless operation and operating without a license, and his father, Ephraim Bridge, who was accompanying him, was charged with permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car.

William Ketchum, 20, of 908 Main St., Wellsville, was cited after his 1957 sedan hit the rear of a stopped 1957 pickup truck operated by Burdette Smith, 50, of 715 Main St., Wellsville, on the Route 7 super-road just north of Wellsville. Smith had stopped to make a left turn onto Kountz Ave., officers said, when the car, also headed north, hit the rear of the truck. Ketchum was charged with failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

HANOVERTON—Three 16-year old youths, one 15 and another 14, were placed on probation to their parents, after a hearing in Hanoverton Wednesday, according to Constable Roy Painter.

The Hanover Township youths had been setting off explosions on township and state roads for several months. They started with big fire crackers and ended up with dynamite Feb. 5 on Route 30 between Hanoverton and Kensington, the constable said.

Brotherhood Week Material Offered By Carnegie Library

The Carnegie Public Library has material available for Brotherhood Week, being observed Feb. 15-22, according to Miss Frances Jones, librarian.

"Stop in to secure some handouts if you're in charge of a program during the coming week," she said. Distributed by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, it features pertinent statements by Dr. Lewis Webster Jones. This organization has been established since 1934 to encourage all peoples to live as one family of man.

Books embracing an understanding of the many and varied groups in the nation are represented on this week's new book shelf. Langston Hughes and Arna Bontemps have edited a "Book of Negro Folklore." They show how Negro music, songs and stories have enriched the country.

Included are the lyrics from gospel songs, ballads and blues. "Make Free," by William Breyfogle, is the story of the Underground Railroad. This history is especially detailed in discussions of Ohio as the trunk line in helping slaves to freedom.

The life of "Ben Gurion," by Robert St. John, reveals the point of view of progressive Jewish peoples. The author is well equipped to tell this story since he was working in Israel when Gurion took office.

Representing the Catholic faith is "An American Amen" by Fr. John La Farge, which explains that "Amen" from his point of view implies a feeling of confidence in his own country, in his faith and in his fellowman.

A personality long associated with improving relations between religious and racial groups is Mrs. Roosevelt. Richard Harbry and Ralph Martin have made a panoramic picture story from lonely childhood to First Lady to World Citizen. It surpasses in quality anything which has been prepared on Mrs. Roosevelt to date.

"Out of Our Past" is a vivid historical narrative concerning the businesses, churches, racial groups, educators, labor, and farm movements which shaped America during its social development. Carl Degler, the author, is a professor at Vassar College. "Last Train from Atlanta" is the heroic story by A. A. Hoehling of an American city under siege.

The author is a newspaperman in Portland, Ore. A novel of a midshipman trained by John Paul Jones is "The Prize Master" by Harvey Haislip.

"Cricket Smith," by Monte Linletter, and Richard Fisher's "The Very First Time" are two novels of teen-agers. The first concerns the problems of a parson's kid and the second deals with the bumbling and growing up of a slightly younger group of teen-age California boys.

For those who relish spy stories, two new volumes are recommended:

"The Zimmerman Telegram," unravels some of the events which triggered America's entry into World War I. The author, Barbara Tuchman, is the daughter of Henry Morgenthau, who was ambassador to Turkey at this time. Boris Morros tells his story in "My Ten Years as a Counter-spy." He served for the FBI against Russia.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My problem is a very personal one and I wouldn't think of discussing it with anyone I know.

I've been dating a girl who is smart as a whip and wonderful company. Her character is excellent. She's attractive, though not beautiful, and her personality charms people at once.

The trouble with this almost perfect young lady is simply this—she thinks perfume is a substitute for soap and water.

On several occasions I've noticed that her neck is dirty. I've seen her dab perfume behind her ears when what she really needs is a bar of soap and a washcloth. How can I wise her up without being brutally frank and perhaps hurting her feelings?—TONGUE-TIED.

Dear Tongue-Tied: Better untie it and talk in plain language. If this girl is as bright as you think, she'll clean herself up and not let another girl win by a neck.

Let Him Lump It

Dear Ann: I'm 55 years of age, married 32 years and we have six lovely grandchildren.

For the last 15 years my husband has been having affairs with waitresses, hat-check girls, hotel maids—everything in skirts under 25 years of age. We live in a rather small town and everyone knows about it.

I used to beg him to see a clergyman with me or go out to town to a marriage counselor. He kept saying he didn't need advice—that he enjoyed his life and if I didn't like it I could lump it.

Well, Ann, I've "lumped it" long enough. But whenever I think seriously of doing something, I become frightened. I'm torn between living out my remaining years in dignity or blowing things sky-high in court.

He says I'll make a big fool of myself if I try to sue for support, as he would deny everything and I won't get a dime. I don't want a divorce, just separate maintenance. Please help me. I'm very tired.—OLD GRAY MARE.

Dear O.G.M.: If your husband has been chasing everything in skirts for 15 years, his denials won't mean much. Even in a large city the word gets around. In a "rather small town" he's a dead duck.

A woman of 55 is far from old by today's standards. You can have many good years, if you want them. See a lawyer and let your husband lump it for a change.

When All Else Fails

Dear Ann: Recently you advised a mother who was "cross-eyed" from reading child psychology books to give her unmanageable children "you know what—you know where."

Do you mean to imply that child psychology is useless and that mothers should discipline their children by hitting them with books?

I was shocked to read this piece of advice in your column, since you have long supported professional people who deal in personality problems. Please explain what you meant.—GEEN

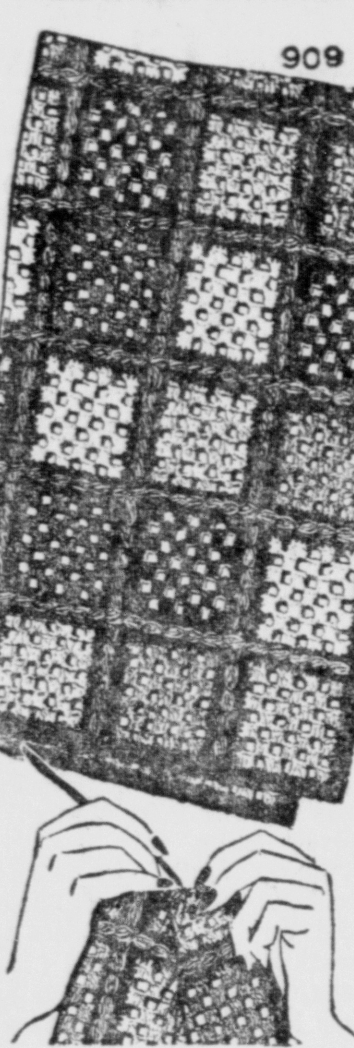

Dear Green: If you read the letter carefully, you know the distraught father who wrote complaining that his wife was rearing their children via the book; they were in trouble constantly—with neighbors and school authorities—and their mother defied him to lay a hand on them.

Child psychology is extremely useful as a guide, but it is no substitute for instinct and common sense. It is not what we KNOW but how we feel about our children that counts. The mother who never heard of Freud may do a better job than the community's leading authority.

All children need discipline. In some families a firm oral statement is sufficient. In this family a few strategically placed swats would make an awful lot of sense.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ohio Youth Convicted Of Fatally Beating Man

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A circuit court jury has convicted a 17-year-old Ohio youth of first degree murder in the beating of a negro janitor. Jurors recommended mercy.

The all-white male jury brought in its verdict Thursday in the three-day trial of Kenneth J. Thiery, 17, of Norwood, Ohio, after deliberating nearly four hours.

The decision carries an automatic life sentence. Defense attorney Carlton Davis was granted 10 days to file a motion for a new trial.

Thiery, a white man, was charged in the death of William K. Brown, 27, during an attempted robbery at the Guaranty Building Oct. 22.

Thiery and his 15-year-old wife, Joyce, came to West Palm Beach in August.

Students At OSU Fight Compulsory Military Training

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Students have begun a fight against the compulsory military training program at Ohio State University, reopening an issue that split the campus in pre-World War II years.

Petitions to eliminate the mandatory two years service in the Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) were circulated Thursday by the Ohio Students Party Associated, a campus political party.

Roger Johnson, OSPA campaign manager, said 1,200 names were obtained. He said the goal is 7,000 signatures.

Since 1937, military training at Ohio State has been compulsory by order of the university trustees. Federal land grant colleges, such as Ohio State, are required to offer military training but are not required to make it compulsory.

The petitions will be sent to the Ohio State Student Senate, the university trustees and the Ohio Legislature, asking them "to do everything in their power to do away with compulsory ROTC."

In 1934, a conscientious objector stirred the campus with his fight against military training. Courts upheld the right of land grant colleges to compel male students to take military training.

Gas Firm Seeks New Facilities In Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas Gas Transmission Corp., Owensboro, Ky., wants to build new facilities in Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio. The facilities would allow the company to transport gas from Louisiana to Lebanon, Ohio.

At Lebanon, Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., Shreveport, La., would deliver the gas to Hope Natural Gas Co., Clarksburg, W. Va., or to Hope's affiliates in the Consolidated Natural Gas System.

To render this latter service, Texas Eastern wants to reactivate about 189 miles of existing pipe line from Middletown, Ohio, to Moundsville, W. Va. The Federal Power Commission was asked Thursday to approve the expansion program, estimated to cost $41,884,000.

U.S. And Soviet Cultural Swap Working Well

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union have successfully carried out two-thirds of their big cultural exchange agreement without a major hitch.

This historic agreement, signed about a year ago, is working so well that both sides are seriously considering extending it when it expires next January.

A summary shows that more than 1,500 Soviet citizens and Americans have visited each other's country as part of 151 official delegations during the first 12 months.

The swap of delegates has started a flow of private tourists. About 5,000 Americans visited the Soviet Union in the first year after the agreement. In return, 66 Soviet tourists, the first to visit this country since World War II, arrived late last year.

More Americans than Soviets have been involved in exchanges thus far, but this is due primarily to a Soviet delay in arranging reciprocal tours of the United States.

Teen-Ager Reduces 58 Pounds

The most heartening part about writing this column is the letters I receive from successful dieters, written for the express purpose of sharing their experience to bolster the morale of struggling dieters.

Today's letter from a former teen-ager who reduced 58 pounds is a perfect example. Ida Jean Kain, 17, of this young lady who has all most reached her goal, writes:

"I had a problem that thousands of teen-agers share — overweight. How well I know their yearning to lose the ugly pounds! When in school, the students made remarks, laughed slightly and giggled as I passed through the halls. Of course I couldn't blame them as I tipped the scales at 213 pounds. My measurements were bust 40, waist 36, hips 45, and my height 5 feet 5 1/2 inches.

"I WENT to several doctors but it just didn't seem to do any good as I didn't have the will power. I used to blame the doctors because I wasn't losing! "One day I took one long look at myself in a full length mirror. I was so disgusted with myself, I had asked myself many times why I couldn't be like other girls. I had a pretty face — there was no reason on earth why I couldn't have a good figure.

"That day I made up my mind to lose the ugly fat. I didn't go to the doctor. I wanted to make a start first. I cut down on starches and sweets and left off my usual chocolate soda after school. I stopped stuffing myself!

"To my delight, within two weeks I began to lose weight. And by the next few months, my clothes were getting larger. I found I could wear a size 20 1/2 instead of a 22 1/2. Today I wear a size 16 dress and I weigh 155 pounds. My measurements are 36, 27, 37. My goal is 138 pounds and I am confident I can reach it.

"Now I can walk down the street and hold my head high because I know that I have just about conquered this weight problem. I want you to know how much your column has helped me. I feel like a new girl."

OVERWEIGHT teen-agers, until you yourselves take the responsibility for your own reducing, you won't get anywhere. But once you make up your mind that nobody else can do the reducing for you, and that you're just the girl who can do it — then you will take action and make slimming progress.

Come on — what are you waiting for! Do you want to be fat all your life!

Rendezvous Seen For Ike, Mamie In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Friends here believe President and Mrs. Eisenhower plan a rendezvous in San Antonio among the scenes of their courtship.

Elaborate preparations at the hotel where Mamie and her sister are staying and Mamie's assertion Thursday night that the President may visit here en route to or from Acapulco, Mexico, brought on the conjecture.

The President is due in Acapulco for a Feb. 19 meeting with President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico.

Thursday night, Mrs. Eisenhower told friends the President indicated he may stop over either here or in Austin on his trip. The President was a young Army officer here when he and Mamie Doud announced their engagement.

Ex-Marine Charged In Slaying Salesman

MCCONNELSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A 20-year-old ex-Marine has been charged with second-degree murder in the pistol-slaying of a South Charleston, W. Va., salesman.

Lowell Eugene Oliver pleaded guilty to the charge Thursday and was bound to a special April grand jury.

He is accused of fatally shooting Thomas Camden Roach, 31, as they sat and argued in a car on a rural road southwest of here Wednesday night. Both had been drinking at a tavern earlier that day.

4 Would-Be Robbers Get Into Hot Water

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four youths tried to hold up a grocery here Thursday night and got themselves into hot water—literally.

The youths entered the store, grabbed Mrs. Mary Kidd, 52, wife of the owner, and demanded money.

Her husband, Edward, 53, was in their rear-room apartment heating water for some coffee when he heard the disturbance. He picked up the pan of hot water, ran into the store and dashed it over the would-be holdup group. The four fled in a hurry.

Youngster Should Work At Summer Camp

Many parents are now looking over summer camps for their youngsters for next summer. Camps differ widely in physical equipment, health and sanitary measures and quality of leadership and personnel. Otherwise they are more or less alike, emphasizing supervised group fun and fun and fun.

By Garry Meyers
tests in sports, related individual skills and some craftsmanship, perhaps.

Most camps make some gesture at teaching responsibility, such as requiring the youngster to make his own bed and tidy up his room or tent. A few camps also require children to take turns at waiting on tables, clearing away dishes after meals. A few even require to help wash dishes or prepare foods for cooking.

But the total time a child attending a camp must really work is very short indeed. It isn't easy to find a camp for a boy or girl, from 10 to 15, where he or she will really have to work hard for 2, 3, or 4 hours daily.

IF I HAD a child of camping age, I would look for one whose program required at least two hours of supervised physical work which no child could escape or dawdle over.

Most camps were not built for work programs. Yet an area might be rented within a mile or two of the camp to which the children could walk, where, perhaps, ditches could be dug for draining swamps, underbrush and other debris cleared away, small stones removed, roads constructed, land terraced, fences built, whitewashed or painted, each child being assigned to do the kind of job he was physically able to do.

There would be no heavy or automatic machinery but lots of shovels, picks, hoes, hammers, saws, hand wagons and the like for hand labor. New camps could be laid out with such a program in view.

I would also be looking for a regular daily period of at least 30 minutes for the reading of approved books and magazines. The TV exposure in one or more central places would rule out Westerns and all programs of violence.

EVERY CHILD would be required to write home at least twice a week. About half the child's day would be left for the traditional sports, contests, nature study and craftsmanship.

Right now I don't know of such a camp and I might not find one. But it's my guess that before many years there will be a goodly number of such camps, in response to a rapidly growing demand by discriminating parents. My bulletin "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

20 Schools To Remember Friday 13th

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Twenty Ohio high schools will have cause early next week to remember this Friday the 13th as a bad luck day.

They'll be receiving official notice from the State Education Department — postmarked today — that their temporary charters are being revoked. The high schools have until March 15 to appeal.

At the recommendation of Supt. E. E. Holt, the State Board of Education moved to revoke the temporary charters for failure to meet minimum state standards in such things as required courses, library facilities, instructional materials and the like.

If the schools wish to appeal, an attorney-referee, Hugh E. Kirkwood of Columbus and Marion, will hear their arguments and make recommendations to the board.

If they accept revocation without appeal, students must attend school in another area where the high school is in good standing. However, Holt pointed out, all 20 high schools will be allowed to complete this school year.

He has also said the schools can apply for reinstatement by correcting the deficiencies noted by Education Department inspectors. The schools involved are: Jefferson (Adams County), Byrd (Brown), Moscow (Clermont), Jefferson (Clinton), Plainfield (Coshocton), Whetstone (Crawford), Marshall (Highland), North Fairfield (Huron), Amity and Gambier (Knox), Quincy (Logan), Martel (Marion), Seneca (Richland), Guernsey, Greene, Johnston and Mecca (all in Trumbull) and Carbon Hill, Rockbridge, Gibsonville, and South Bloomingville (all in Hocking).

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Something Special For Mr. Lincoln

Every year about this time, the broadcasters and the newspapers and all of us try to outdo one another in making a low bow to Abraham Lincoln. Much of this eulogy is repetitive; much of it is dull and the wonder is that Lincoln survives this annual orgy of praise as well as he does. Occasionally, some new way of doing Lincoln honor is discovered and such a one was the TV program, "Meet Mr. Lincoln," on NBC-TV Wednesday night.

John Crosby

"Meet Mr. Lincoln" opened with a couple of youngsters staring up at the heroic statue in the Lincoln Monument in Washington — and then trace Lincoln's life through the tumultuous war years, by means of photographs alone.

THIS USE of still photography for motion picture narrative has been done before, notably in the re-creation of artists' lives by means of their paintings.

Here the producer and director, Donald B. Hyatt, and the writer, Richard Hanser, made stunning use of an enormous collection of prints and photographs of the Lincoln era. By constantly moving the camera, panning right to left, or drawing back, by quick switches from picture to picture, you get the illusion of motion, of movement, of life.

Dore Schary did something very like this, re-creating the Battle of Gettysburg by means of statues and monuments on the battlefield, without a single live actor, in a motion picture that didn't attract half the attention it deserved. In the show Wednesday night, not only Lincoln, but Lincoln's time, and the great War Between the States came alive in a manner that is almost impossible to describe unless you saw it.

THESE OLD pictures have an authenticity, a realism, a sheer impact of detail that no actors with grease paint on their faces or no settings, no matter how long the research department has worked on it, can match.

There were pictures of Springfield, Ill., when Lincoln was a boy with the original signs on the muddy streets and suddenly you were transported back to that era. You could smell the smells and taste the tastes of the time.

Lincoln looked like Lincoln, not like Raymond Massey (who is currently playing God in "JB") and God only knows where he goes from a role.

Project 20 looked through some 25,000 pictures from archives and collections all over the country and used only about 500 of them.

"YOU CAN'T duplicate the old daguerreotypes and the old engravings," said Hyatt. "When you think of all the obstacles Matthew Brady had to surmount to get those pictures, you realize how magnificent those Civil War pictures were.

"Brady had first to get permission to visit the battlefield. When he took to the field, he had 30 aides with him. They had to draw blinds on the wagon, sensitize their plates, rush out to take their pictures, rush back to develop them."

Hyatt and Hanser agree that no portrait photographer to-day has taken better portraits than Hessler's pictures of Lincoln. Brady's camp shots of soldiers—and this when you had to hold a pose for 30 seconds or so—never have been surpassed.

On the show Wednesday you couldn't help noticing the faces of soldiers and slaves and bystanders and politicians. They don't hardly make faces like that no more.

Again there was a strength, a splendor, a breadth of experience that seems of another age and another time.

HANSER LIKED to give credit to the writer of the show who was, wherever possible, that magnificent old word slinger, Abe Lincoln himself.

"Where I could have Lincoln say it, Lincoln said it," said writer Hanser.

A great deal of credit for the excitement and stimulation of "Meet Mr. Lincoln" should go to Robert Russell Bennett who adapted, orchestrated and conducted the score which largely was composed of superb old tunes from the North and the South like "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," "The Battle Cry of Freedom," "Rock Me to Sleep, Mother," "Skip to My Lou," "The Bonnie Blue Flag," "O Susanna!" and, of course, "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Group's Meeting Aims At Curbing Obscene Books

CINCINNATI (AP)—A national Committee of Citizens for Decent Literature Inc. opens a two-day meeting here today to plan for a nationwide campaign to curb obscene and pornographic literature.

The steering committee, headed by Bernard E. Donovan of New York, was appointed last October at a meeting in Cleveland.

Robert Foy of Cincinnati, in charge of arrangements for the meeting here, said the group would move to form a national citizens for decent literature organization. The aims of such an organization would be two-fold:

"1. To awaken the people of the United States to the dangers and prevalence of obscene and pornographic literature.

"2. Request the proper law enforcement, prosecution and conviction of violators of the laws of various communities, states, and the nation which make obscenity a crime."

Project 20 looked through some 25,000 pictures from archives and collections all over the country and used only about 500 of them.

"YOU CAN'T duplicate the old daguerreotypes and the old engravings," said Hyatt. "When you think of all the obstacles Matthew Brady had to surmount to get those pictures, you realize how

Red Cross Has Spent $500,000 In Flood Aid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Red Cross announced today it has spent more than one-half million dollars to provide disaster assistance to families stricken by flood waters last month in Ohio, Indiana, New York, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

E. V. Bighinatti, director of Red Cross regional disaster headquarters here, said $505,968 already has been committed to provide emergency aid for the Jan. 21 flood victims. But he said the Red Cross expects to spend nearly 2 million dollars in all for rebuilding, repairing and refurbishing water-damaged homes.

He added, however, that the present flooding in Indiana and the recurrence of floods this week in northern Ohio will create additional family needs which may boost Red Cross disaster expenditures.

Kiwanis Told Of Scout Plans

Teen-age Boy Interest Surprises

The main interests of teen-age boys — surprising in view of some common adult beliefs — were reported in a Boy Scout program at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

A. C. West, chairman of the Cherokee District of the Columbus Boy Scout Council, discussed a new Explorer Scout program designed for youths 14 to 18. THE NEW PROGRAM is based on a recent study of interests and needs of youths made in a survey of 20,000 boys by the Gallup Poll and the University of Michigan.

Questionnaires on boys' interests were distributed to Kiwanis members to answer, and as the poll results were related on a phonograph accompanied by screened slides, West pointed out most of the interests were not those thought to be held by boys.

The chief worry of high school boys is not money, girls or the draft. Over 50 per cent believe their main concern is doing well in school.

Whose ideas do youths most readily take concerning when to be in at night — friends, parents, teachers, spiritual leaders or heroes? They take the word of their parents first, the poll showed.

IN FACT, the adult most boys would want to be like is not a movie star, the President or their teacher — it is a member of their family — their father.

It isn't dad's looks, money or position they admire most, however, it is his skill in vocational and social areas.

Do independent teen-agers want adult leaders for their clubs? Yes, according to the polls, they want a mature, capable person to guide them.

The most important thing high school boys feel they must decide in the next few years is not marriage, going steady, military service or vocational plans. It is education.

The poll shows the boys give a good deal of thought to the future, instead of merely living for today as some people believe.

FOR LEISURE time activity, movies ranked first, followed by swimming and listening to the radio or records. Ranked below are making things, driving around and collecting things.

The leisure time activity most enjoyed, however, is swimming, followed by movies then hunting.

Having a car is not the thing that makes most teen-agers feel important and useful. Neither is having money or getting good marks. The poll showed the taking of responsibility made the youths feel more like adults than anything.

On dating, the survey showed 20 per cent of 14 - year - old boys had dates at least once a week, while 53 per cent of 16-year-old boys dated weekly.

CONTRARY TO ADULT conviction, most teen-agers do not belong to more organizations than they have time for. The poll reveals 61 per cent belonged to one or no clubs. However, 17 per cent were members of 3 or more.

Teen-age boys also want to know more about many kinds of vocations.

West said this information about boys enabled scout officials to revamp the Explorer program to meet these interests and needs. The program also includes new manuals, new uniforms and new insignia.

WEST EXPLAINED how organizations can sponsor new units and said there are efforts under way to encourage more boys and adult leaders to take part in the new program.

Frank Rossi of Wellsville, district advancement and extension chairman, assisted West. Eugene Hall was program chairman.

The club voted to make individual contributions in support of the regular youth service program instead of sponsoring a major ticket - selling event this year.

Rowland Kaufman, president, presided.

Korean Conflict Veterans Transfer Term Insurance

Many thousand Korean conflict veterans have been able to convert their previously non-convertible term GI insurance to permanent GI policies since Jan. 1, A. G. Bille, contact representative, said today.

The affected GI policies, Bille explained, are identifiable by the letters "RS," which precede the policy numbers.

Beginning in January, the new statute, (Public Law 85-896) provides the thousands of "RS" policyholders with three options:

1.—To convert their "RS" term policies to permanent plans of GI insurance.

2.—To exchange their "RS" term policies for a "limited convertible" term policy carrying a lower premium rate, but which—after Sept. 1, 1960—cannot be renewed by persons who have passed their 50th birthday.

3.—To keep their "RS" term policies at the currently established premium rates, which increase every 5 years. The maximum amount of the new-type insurance will be limited in each case by the face amount of the veteran's present "RS" policy.

Bille listed the types of permanent insurance available under the new law as ordinary life, 20-pay life, 30-pay life, 20-year endowment, endowment at age 60 and endowment at age 65.

Only "RS" policyholders are affected by the new law. It does not re-open GI insurance, Bille warned.

Complete information about the conversion or exchange of "RS" insurance may be obtained at the VA Office, 227 N. 5th St., Steubenville.

House Voting Set On 9 Bills

Real Estate Law Would Be Rewritten

CHARLESTON — A Senate-approved bill to rewrite West Virginia's real estate brokers licensing law was up for House passage today.

The real estate measure was one of nine bills at passage stage in the House. Among other things, it would broaden the definitions of real estate brokers and salesmen to bring about more regulation of the business.

In the event of House approval, the measure would have to go back to the Senate for concurrence in House amendments.

Also awaiting a House passage vote was an enabling measure to let the Road Commission sell five million dollars worth of road bonds within the limits of a 50 million dollars revolving issue authorized by the voters in 1920.

The Senate had 15 bills on passage. They included two House-approved measures which would expand the effect of a constitutional amendment adopted in the election last November.

The amendment exempted money and bank deposits from the property tax. Bills awaiting Senate action would define accounts in industrial loan companies and building and loan associations so as to make the amendment apply to them.

Without debate, the House passed an "open records" bill by an 87-8 vote yesterday. The measure, which now goes to the Senate, requires that all records of state, county and municipal arms of government be open for public inspection.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a bill to extend to airlines and barge companies the transportation privilege tax that is now paid by railroads and motor carriers. The amount of revenue involved is small.

The movie shows pottery production from the raw clay to the finished ware. Both district potteries made their facilities available for production of the film.

Development Unit Adds 22 Members With 6 From Area

The Upper Ohio Valley Development Council added 22 member concerns in 1958 and the first few weeks of 1959, including six in the East Liverpool area, Walter L. Myers Jr., executive manager, announced today at Steubenville.

The new members are: Chester, Dale K. Allison Agency, Herche Drugstore, Atty. James A. Jordan and T.K. Roofing Co.; East Liverpool, First Federal Savings & Loan Association, and Salineville, Citizens Banking Co.

Myers announced the memberships in a six - page report in which he detailed industrial developopments and activities in the six-county area last year and looked forward to 1959.

During 1958, the UOVDC worked with representatives of 5 concerns who visited the area in quest of plant sites, Myers revealed. In addition, the district's potentialities were shown to other prospects by power, rail and community industrial development groups, he said.

The Ohio Valley area and its industrial growth and potential "gained a great deal more national and regional publicity during 1958," Myers commented.

There is no knowledge as to the original discovery or use of fire. Some scientists believe fire first permitted man to walk with protection against savage animals.

Wrestling Takes Spotlight . . .

The regional wrestling tournament today and Saturday at Memorial Auditorium will resemble a three-ring circus and should be just as entertaining.

Three matches will be in progress at the same time, providing plenty of action. This is the first time that a tournament of this type has been held here. A good local following can help to make it a success.

More than 150 athletes and 15 schools will take part in the two-day meet and some of the topnotch wrestlers in Ohio will be performing on the local mats.

Heading the classy field is Art Hehr, Bridgeport's defending 130-pound champ. Hehr, who hasn't been defeated in two years, moved through the regional tournament last year with ease, then went on to claim the state title.

And Bridgeport looks like the team to beat. With six undefeated wrestlers in the lineup, the Bridgeports have won 12 straight matches and no team has come close to defeating them.

IT WOULD be fitting if Beaver Local's Carl Hoppel should win the regional title in the 123-pound division.

For the past seven years a member of the Hoppel family has won a regional title and gone on to

Just What Doctor Ordered . . .

THE NEW Midland gymnasium is just what the doctor ordered for that community. It will replace the "hand box" which Leopard teams have used for years.

When the gymnasium wasn't completed by December, as planned, some basketball fans further up the Beaver Valley began to come up with some theories of their own as to the reason why.

With Midland in contention for the Section 8 title, the "story" going around Beaver County was that Midland had a better chance to defeat a Section 8 opponent on the small confines of the old gym

This 'N That In Sports . . .

STATISTICS released by Youngstown University for 19 games show Midland's Herb Lake is averaging about 14 points a game and ranks about fourth in scoring for the Penguins.

But there is no question about who is leading the team in rebounds. Lake has pulled down 324 and is 100 in front of any of his teammates.

Rebounding is the department where Lake shines and last year he ranked among the top rebounders in the nation.

He has one of his best night's of the season Wednesday when he dropped in 25 points as Youngstown was losing to Akron Good-year, 114-103.

Wally Walowac, who will be remembered by fans here from his showing in the Tri-State tournament, paced Goodyear with 32 points.

RUDY TROVICH, who attends the University of Tennessee in the off season, has been assigned to the Columbus, Ga., team of the South Atlantic League.

Property of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Rudy played in Washington last year and finished the season at Grand Forks, Minn., in the Northern League.

Mounties Upset By NYU In Overtime Fray, 72-70

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's probably no logical reason for it, but in the last 18 years West Virginia's basketball teams and New York's Madison Square Garden have gone together like ice cream and catsup.

If that strikes you as less than tasty, so it is for the Mountaineers in their dribble digging in the Garden.

Since sweeping through three upset victories to nail the National Invitation Tournament in 1942, West Virginia has made 28 Garden appearances including tournament and regular season games.

The Garden record is 10-18, including Thursday night's stomach-churning 72-70 loss in overtime to New York University. During the same stretch, West Virginia teams have won 76 per cent of their games on other courts.

NYU came from 11 points behind to apply the Garden jinx, finally clinching the upset when 6-4 Cal Ramsey sank three pressure free throws in the last 30 seconds of overtime.

North Carolina won its 10th straight Atlantic Coast Conference game for a 15-1 record, 75-66 over Wake Forest in a duel climaxed by a fist-swinging brawl; 6-7 Herb Busch had a big night in Virginia's 85-66 victory over VMI; Manhattan improved its tournament chances 71-53 over Syracuse; and wrestling teams.

Midland Guns For Section 8 Title Tonight

ELHS Travels To Ferry, Tigers Host Red Knights

Tonight is the game of the year so far as Midland followers are concerned.

The Leopards and Hopewell lay their cards squarely on the table at Midland gym in what could decide the Section 8 title.

The game headlines a schedule of 11 tonight in the district. A victory by Midland would virtually clinch the title, since the Leopards only have one game left in Section 8 play against Freedom.

District Schedule

Today
East Liverpool at Martins Ferry
Toronto at Wellsville
Hopewell at Midland
Newell at Chester
Salineville at Beaver Local
New Cumberland at Cameron
Lisbon at Poland
Columbiana at Louisville
Leetonia at East Palestine
Malvern at United
West Alexander at South Side

which is in the league's cellar with a 1-9 record. A victory by Hopewell would drop Midland into second place by a half game.

Coach George Hamilton's Leopards defeated Hopewell 41-37 in the first round of the Section 8 schedule.

Fresh from their victory over Toronto, the East Liverpool Pottery will be looking for their third win of the season tonight on the Martins Ferry floor.

The Purple Riders of Ed McGlumphy are under the .500 mark for the season with a 7-8 record.

Coach John Karaffa said his starting lineup tonight will be Bob Mackall and Craig Burback at the forwards, Kenny Miller and Kenny Cunningham at guards and Bob Beatty or Ray Bigelow at center.

The Potters enter the contest with a 2-13 mark.

Another top game finds the Wellsville Tigers seeking their sixth straight victory. Toronto, with an 11-3 mark, will provide the opposition at Beacom Memorial gym.

Coach Jack McDevitt's cagers have caught fire in their last five games and rolled to easy victories. Wellsville has brought its season's record to 10-5 with its latest spurt.

Dan Baldwin will carry a 24-point average into tonight's game. After Tuesday's performance, he raised his point total for the season to 373.

Chester will face its traditional rival Newell tonight at Chester, but the game won't have as much appeal as in past seasons.

Newell hasn't won a game and brings an 0-16 mark to Chester. Meanwhile, the Panthers will attempt to get back on the victory trail after successive losses to Wellsville and Toronto.

Looking over the district, Salineville (6-10) visits Beaver Local (6-9) and New Cumberland takes its 6-11 record to Cameron.

United closes its season tonight and will shoot for victory No. 15 at home against Malvern.

In three Tri-County League games, Columbiana (7-9) visits Poland and Leetonia (3-12) plays at East Palestine (7-8).

West Alexander will invade South Side, where Coach Thompson's squad will seek its 12th win against 10 setbacks.

North Carolina-Wake Forest Contest Ends In Free-For-All

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—

"It breaks my heart to see something like that happen," a melancholy Wake Forest Coach Bones McKinney said Thursday night after a tense North Carolina-Wake Forest basketball game erupted into a free-swinging melee. The Tar Heels won 75-66.

Coach Frank McGuire of the second-ranked Tar Heels would only say, "It's a dangerous thing."

Until the final 30 seconds, it was a hard-fought contest between two old Atlantic Coast Conference rivals.

Leading 33-32 at the half, North Carolina pulled away as Harvey Salz, York Larese and Lee Sahfer built the margin to 75-64 in the final seconds.

Shaffer and Deacon Charlie Forte scuffled for a loose ball, Deacon Dave Budd joining in. Both benches emptied and a flurry of fists followed.

Wake fans joined the scrap, slapping at Tar Heel players.

Larese and Dick Kepley bore the brunt as they tried to reach the Carolina bench.

Police restored order and officials ejected Shaffer and Budd. Athletic directors of both schools and the coaches conferred with officials and complete new lineups came in.

Wake's Jerry Steele added the final field goal after play resumed.

"I got a good whack in the head," McKinney said later. "It's a shame it had to happen. It wasn't a particularly rough game."

It was North Carolina's 10th win against an ACC defeats. They are 15-1 over-all.

NICK MUSURACA, who tips the scales at 157, weighs in prior to the preliminary round of the regional wrestling tournament which got underway this afternoon at 2:30 at Memorial Auditorium. The weigh-ins were held this morning. In the center looking on is Bob Springer, the Potters' 141-pounder. Coach Lou Venditti is shown adjusting the scales.

O'Neill Out With Injury

Regional Mat Tournament Underway At Auditorium

Fifteen teams and over 150 wrestlers checked into Memorial Auditorium this morning as weigh-ins were held prior to the start of the regional wrestling tournament.

Following weigh-ins which ended at noon, a coaches meeting was scheduled at 2 p. m. and the preliminary round was set to start at 2:30.

It marks the first time that a wrestling tournament has been held in East Liverpool.

Merrill Hall, tournament director, said that quarter-finals will be held tonight at 8 p. m., with semi-finals Saturday afternoon at 1:30 and finals Saturday night at 8.

A consolation round will get underway tonight and some 60 matches were to be run off this afternoon.

Hopes for the Potters to qualify several wrestlers were dimmed when Coach Lou Venditti said that Bill O'Neill will not be able to wrestle in the tournament due to a rib injury received at South Side last Friday.

Doctors have ordered O'Neill not to wrestle for at least six weeks. Also Jim Bise, East Liverpool's 165-pounder, will be out with a back injury.

Delany Eyes 28th Straight Despite Friday The 13th

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Well, sir, it's Friday the 13th, but that doesn't bother Ireland's fabulous Ron Delany.

He figures his Irish luck will carry him to his 28th straight mile victory and a new meet record in the 15th Inquirer Indoor Track Games at Convention Hall tonight.

"I figure we should break the meet record," he said Thursday. Delany, now a graduate student at Villanova, holds the record of 4:08.1.

A sellout crowd of 10,600 is expected to watch the games in which many of the world's finest athletes, including 10 champions of foreign countries, will compete.

An international field hopes to break Delany's streak. It includes England's Brian Hewson, Sweden's Dan Waern, Hungary's Lazo Tabari and American's Jim Grelle and Phil Coleman.

The United States consumes about one-third of the world's sugar.

sank eight putts from 5 to 15 feet for birdies and an 8 under par 31-31-62.

That was his finest score in 18 years of pro play and sent him into today's second round with a three-stroke lead.

Fifty-four pros made the most of the El Rio Club's good greens to better par 35-35-70 for the 6,434-yard layout. Another 13 had par.

Sharp play on the greens netted 5 under par 65s for Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N.C., Gene Littler, Singing Hills, Calif., Henry Williams Jr., Fleetwood, Pa., and Joe Campbell, Knoxville, Tenn., the only youngster among the leaders.

Art Wall Jr., the big money winner of the year from Pocono Manor, Pa., was one of five who started the second round four strokes off the pace with 66s.

With him were Lloyd Mangrum, Apple Valley, Calif., Al Bessellink, Grossinger, N.Y., Manuel de la Torre, Milwaukee, Wis., and Jose Jimenez, Manhattan, Kan.

55 CITY-SUBURBAN PROPERTY

3 Acres
And A Snug House
This is place is on the edge of town in a homey setting. The house isn't new but it's beautifully kept up. You walk across the porch and into a large comfortable livingroom with a big friendly stone fireplace. Off the livingroom is a good-sized attractive diningroom which opens into a roomy kitchen, then out onto the back porch. The garage is attached. Upstairs are three commodious bedrooms and a modern tiled bath. Lots of windows and closets. The house is heated with an oil furnace and has a brand new water pump and motor with plenty of sparking the well water. The balance of 75 fruit trees (mostly apples) which have been pruned and sprayed every year, with plenty of open space left for vegetables, etc. The owner has bought a new house nearer his job and doesn't want two houses on his hands. He's asking $16,000 for this one but, frankly, we don't know what he'll settle for. Why not let us show you the property and make an offer if it suits you?

40 &amp; 8 Will Fete Orphans

Orphans and indigent children of Hancock County will be fete'd at the sixth annual Easter Party March 26 by Voiture 1459 of the Hancock County 40 & 8 Society.

Plans for the event were outlined at a promenade Thursday night in the Newell American Legion home. The party will include a full course dinner to be served in the Chester American Legion home for children 6 to 14. An hour of entertainment by local groups will highlight the program.

CHILDREN residing in Weirton, Pughtown and New Cumberland will be transported to the party by bus, while those residing in the Chester-Newell area will be hauled in cars of voiture members. Dinner will be served by 40 & 8 members as in the past, John Meriman, chef de gare, announced. In other business, plans were completed for a "wreck" or initiation of new members to be Sunday afternoon at 1 in the Lawrenceville American Legion home. Candidates from Hancock, Brooke, Ohio and Marshall Counties in West Virginia, and Columbiana County in Ohio will be initiated.

Reginald White, grand chef de gare of West Virginia, will be in charge of the initiation, according to George Laneve, grand chemist.

HE WILL BE assisted by Charles W. Morris of Chester, grand chef de train of West Virginia. Following the "wreck," lunch will be served by the auxiliary of the Lawrenceville post.

A report on the nurse's training program sponsored by the voiture was presented by Karl Rinehart of Weirton. Two nurses are presently being sponsored by the voiture, a Newell girl at City Hospital, and a Weirton girl at the Ohio Valley General Hospital at Wheeling. A Chester girl will begin nurse's training in September at the Ohio Valley Hospital in Steubenville with expenses to be paid by the voiture, Rinehart reported.

ALL GRADUATE nurses of the voiture's training program will be presented with a national 40 & 8 nurse's pin with a diamond. Members of the voiture plan to attend graduation ceremonies at City Hospital this spring. Donna Robinson of Newell, sponsored by the voiture during her training, will be among the graduates.

Morris, correspondent, reported the membership quota has been exceeded by 7 and that 10 were awarded membership buttons for securing 14 or more new members for American Legion posts. Morris also announced that Chester, Lawrenceville and Weirton posts had exceeded their membership quotas for 1959.

Two new members accepted were Dale K. Allison, commander of Chester Post 121, and Henry Forsha, first vice commander of Weirton Post 10.

APPOINTED to a nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers for election in May were Rinehart, Allison and Laneve. Installation will be held in June. The committee was appointed by Meriman.

"Our Constitution" will be the topic of the 1st District oratorical contest of the American Legion planned Feb. 27 at Wellsburg. Laneve is chairman. Entries have been received from Chester, Weirton and Wells High Schools in the county.

The next voiture promenade will be held March 12 at 8 p. m. in Weirton.

Army Chief Says U.S. Will Remain In West Berlin

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker says the United States will remain in West Berlin despite threats from Russia.

He told the Lucas County Republican Club at a Lincoln Day banquet Thursday night that this country and its North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies "have shaken hands" on staying in Berlin. He added that the West would not yield despite a Soviet threat to get out by May 27.

Brucker warned that "there are no second prizes for defending ourselves" and added that defense is worth all that it costs.

The Army secretary said he would "rather talk about a little too much than too little" when it comes to defense.
